$7,500 BLAZE RAZES HOMES IN CALCUTTA

Two Dwellings Destroyed, Two Other Structures Damaged.

ORIGIN MYSTERY

Midnight Fire Threatens To Wipe Out Village.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed two homes, damaged two other structures and for a time threatened to wipe out the village of Calcutta, four miles north of here, last midnight. The loss, estimated at $7,500, is partially covered by insurance.

Passersby Awaken Villagers.

A seven-room dwelling, owned and occupied by Homer Fouks, garage operator and automobile dealer, and an eight-room home, owned by Mrs. Edwin Fouks and occupied by Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Clark and three children, were razed. Home of Lawrence Chamberlin, St. Clair township constable, adjoining the Clark house, and the Homer Fouks concrete block garage, adjoining his home, were damaged.

The blaze started in the home of Homer Fouks, during the absence of Fouks, who was in Pittsburgh. Two unidentified men, passing through Calcutta at 11:45 o'clock, discovered the fire in the second floor of the house. They awakened the villagers.

City Firemen Called.

East Liverpool firemen were called. The Northside truck, the chief's car and five men responded. Without water, firemen fought the flames with chemicals. A bucket brigade was formed to protect adjoining buildings. Soon the flames bridged the road in front of the Fouks home, igniting the composition roof of the house occupied by Clark.

Fearing the village was doomed, the Wellsville fire department pumper was called.

President Hoover Says. Several Drunk, One Dead. Birth Control Raid.

By ARTHUR BRISBANE.
(Copyright, 1929, by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

MUCH meaning in President Hoover's first and brief message.

Foreigners cannot complain if we make our tariff high enough to equalize differences in cost of labor at home and abroad.

No reason why foreigners should profit in this country by under-paying foreign workers.

THE people's votes ordered the government to do various things, develop waterways, revise the agricultural tariff and afford relief in other directions.

President Hoover intends that the government shall carry out the voters' orders.

"Waste between farmer and consumer" will be eliminated as far as possible. Middleman, and possibly transportation costs, will be regulated.

LEGISLATION can't cure all the troubles of farmers. But farmers and farm organizations can be helped by legislation.

The farmers will have to do some of it, by organizing their industry.

THE government should not engage in buying, selling or fixing prices on products.

This means that the government will not undertake to buy the farmer's crop, whatever he raises. He must continue to use judgment as to how much of each thing should be planted. That's his specialty.

"THERE should be no fee or tax imposed upon the farmer."

That will suit the farmer.

NEW YORK is much interested in a killing, because it happened in Park avenue, where millionaires live.

One woman was throwing a party and a Mr. Bell invited a Mrs. Brown to go. Mr. Bell, in jail, accused of manslaughter, says there was a great deal of drinking. In plain words, several were drunk.

ONE of the several who drank no more. His name was Smith.

After a certain number of drinks he decided to go home, and wished to escort Mrs. Brown to her hotel. Mr. Bell objected and pushed or hit Mr. Smith, who fell down and broke his crown, that is to say, fractured his skull. Hence the manslaughter charge.

Mr. Bell didn't mean to kill anybody. It was accidental. A drunken man killed is often a nuisance.

FOG IS BLAMED

Steamer, Enroute to New York, is Refloated.

LONDON, April 18.—The great French liner Paris, one of the biggest and finest passenger ships plying the North Atlantic, went aground this morning on Eddystone rocks, near Plymouth, but was refloated after a short time.

The liner went aground in a thick fog as she was about to enter the Plymouth harbor.

According to word from Plymouth at 1:30 this afternoon the Paris had wireless for big tugs to pull her off the rocks and to take off the passengers if necessary.

At the same time the London office of the French line gave out a statement that the Paris had refloated herself by her own power and had proceeded to Plymouth.

This statement was subsequently confirmed by advices from Plymouth.

They indicated that the big ship may have been slightly damaged, but belief was expressed that she would be able to continue her voyage to New York.

AUTOISTS PAY AS FOUR-CENT LAW GETS O. K.

Retail Fuel Goes to 18 Cents Gallon Today.

ACTION SUDDEN

Increase Will Cost Consumers $8,500,000 Each Year.

Retail price of gasoline jumped from 17 to 18 cents a gallon at most stations in East Liverpool today as the 4-cent Sullivan-Bostwick tax act became effective. High test or "anti-knock" gas prices were increased from 20 to 21 cents a gallon. One "cut-rate" station was selling at 17 and 20 cents a gallon.

Cooper Signs Bill.

The gas tax boost from three to four cents was a staggering blow to the autoists, because of the suddenness of enactment. They knew it was coming, but not so soon.

Gov. Cooper signed the bill late yesterday afternoon, and it became a law, effective at midnight.

All tax measures, it was explained, become effective the midnight after the governor signs them.

The increase will collect approximately $8,500,000 from the gasoline consumers each year, it has been estimated.

Third Gas Tax Increase.

This is the third time, in as many sessions of the legislature, that an increased gas tax measure was levied against the motorists of the Buckeye state.

In 1925, the Ohio general assembly enacted a two-cent gas tax.

In 1927, the administration added a penny to this tax and it became three cents.

This year, the tax was boosted another cent, so that the gas tax now amounts to four cents on every gallon of gasoline bought.

The total revenue from the tax will amount to some $34,000,000 a year.

Besides this, Ohio motorists pay $12,000,000 a year for license tags, and several other millions in property tax on their automobiles.

How Tax is Divided.

Of the $8,500,000 to be "extracted" by the additional one-cent tax, 60 per cent will go to the state, 10 per cent is to be divided equally among the counties, 10 per cent to the municipalities on a consumption ratio, and the remaining 20 per cent to be divided equally among the 1,335 townships.

All of it is to be used for road construction and improvement work.

Nearly every gasoline company in the state is making the motorist pay the additional one cent.

One of the features of the Sullivan-Bostwick bill, the name for the increased gas tax measure in the legislative halls, was the township road provision. Because of the clause allowing 20 per cent to be divided among the townships, the rural members of the house solidly backed the bill.

Four years ago, when the first tax was levied, the motorists filled their gas tanks and laid away a little supply, as they knew when the boost was effective.

Pennsylvania, Ohio's neighboring state on the east, had a five-cent gas tax at one time, but a referendum vote repealed that.

Motorists Bow Humbly.

No intention of a referendum vote has been made in Ohio as yet, and it is believed that the motorists will bow humbly and accept the taxation.

All of the money gathered from the gas tax will be spent for improvement and construction work on Ohio's roads, and good roads, administration leaders declare, will bring a new period of prosperity to the Buckeye state.

AUTO RUNS 59 MILES ON GALLON OF GAS

Automobile engineers who worked for years in an effort to reduce gasoline consumption have found the solution in a marvelous invention that fits all cars. An actual test made by one of the engineers showed 59 miles on a gallon of gas. Thousands of car owners have already installed this new invention. They not only report amazing gas savings, but are also surprised to find quicker pick-up, instant starting, smoother running motors and disappearance of carbon. E. Oliver, 599-1308 E. Civic Music Campaign

Organized for the purpose of giving the East Liverpool district an opportunity to hear leaders on the American concert stage in a series of presentations at home, the Civic Music association has made great strides in encouraging better music during the five years of its existence. Thanks to the efforts of the association, its patrons have been privileged to enjoy high class programs on an actual cost basis.

Accomplishment of the aims should prove an incentive to enrollment in the association for the 1929-30 season, the campaign for which will be launched Saturday by 40 workers under the direction of the newly elected officers, Mrs. Danks Cochran, president; Mrs. R. T. Hall, vice-president; H. B. Barth, secretary, and Mrs. Joseph M. Wells, treasurer.

The association will present its third and last concert of the 1928-29 season tomorrow night, when Charles Hackett, tenor of the Chicago Civic Opera company, will appear here. Other vocalists and instrumentalists of equal fame have appeared here under auspices of the organization.

Nine hundred members will be sought in the campaign. The cost of enrollment is nominal, and the high standard of the programs presented during the last five years proves that the investment pays large dividends in cultural development.

If you believe in better music, join the Civic Music association.

Airplane Industry's Growth

Announcement has been made in Washington that aeronautical activities have so greatly increased throughout the United States during the last twelve months that the department of commerce has been compelled to increase the personnel of its bureau of aeronautics 25 per cent, while the office space allotted to it is to be increased one-third to make room for the installation of equipment found necessary to meet the increased demands on the bureau.

For months, the information section of the bureau, the section to which candidates for pilot's and mechanic's licenses are assigned for examination, has been flooded with work, and the labors of the bureau will be decidedly augmented when the work of rating airports and aviation schools, new divisions for which are at present being organized, is inaugurated.

During the fiscal year which ended April 8, applications for pilot's licenses aggregated 9,861 as against 4,125 on April 7 of last year, and there were 3,886 applications for the renewal of such licenses, whereas the preceding year applications for renewals numbered but 292. In addition to all this, a total of 7,331 applications for mechanic's licenses were filed against 3,695 during the same period last year, and whereas, on April 7 of last year, there were but 1,680 student applicants, on April 6 of this year 15,882 student applications had been received.

Still another insight into the increased aeronautical activities of the land may be had from the announcement, that "during the last year licenses for aircraft more than doubled, 7,695 applications having been received up to April 6 as against 3,602 last year. The branch also had renewed 476 licenses, and had received applications for identification of 3,885 planes as against 1,289 last year. To date this year 15,545 aircraft have been transferred as against 1,052 last year."

The only development to which the growth of aviation can be compared is that of the automobile. The airplane industry may never attain a development equal to that of the motor car, but even at the possibilities of its growth are almost unlimited. So long as airplanes commanded a price around $10,000, and were unknown quantities, the demand for them was naturally somewhat limited, but since the possibilities of the plane have been demonstrated by transoceanic and transcontinental flights and by the establishment and operation of scheduled passenger, mail and freight services, the demand has been increased by leaps and bounds.

The airplane as a means of transportation has come to stay.

Up In Air

Although aviation was born on this side of the Atlantic, it was not long ago that we were deploring the fact that Europe had got the jump on us in the matter of the development of air traffic. In these later days, however, it appears that we have again stepped into first place.

The reports of European attaches to the Department of Commerce show that Germany maintains first place in Europe, the commercial planes of that nation having flown, last year, 6,303,150 miles, carrying 4,188,740 pounds of baggage, 1,069,231 pounds of mail and 110,000 passengers.

The department records show that our own planes on the other hand have covered 10,000,000 miles, carried nearly 4,000,000 pounds of mail and 2,500,000 pounds of express. Only in the item of passengers carried do we take second place, with about a third as many as Germany.

These figures are indeed gratifying. Getting up in the air we are. Staying up in the air and besting all other nations must be our ambition. Every community owes it to the country to do its part, at least by provision for an airport.

Canton's Fire Loss Low

Canton has won first place in a fire waste contest conducted in 374 cities by the National Chamber of Commerce. The honor is more notable, because of the large margin over the average of other cities which Canton piled up. The average per capita loss in the 374 cities was $2.35, which is $1.54 more than the $1-cent average per capita loss in Canton.

There has been a steadily decreasing average rate of loss from fire in the Stark county metropolis during the last five years as a result of educational programs, improved building construction, more efficient protection and a decrease of fire hazards.

Low fire losses in a community are a benefit to everyone. Insurance rates will be lower, taxes will be lower and the city will be more desirable, generally.

HASKIN DAILY LETTER

By Frederick J. Haskin

WASHINGTON, D. C., April 18.—Through the channels of immigration the United States has received many citizens from the Balkan States, that section of eastern Europe which seems perpetually to be in some kind of eruption. Should those former Balkan people go back, they would find many changes, not the least of which would relate to the currencies now in use. After the war, the money systems of these countries were in confusion. Gold was short and credit at low ebb. Old units, in some cases, disappeared and new ones arose. This was true not only in the Balkans but in many other European countries. Bankers of the more solid states refer to these new currencies as monetary debauches and their ultimate success or failure is being watched with interest everywhere.

The process of return to a stable basis was especially difficult in the Balkans. The countries comprising the Balkan States are Albania, Greece, Romania, and Bulgaria. Albania quickly adopted the gold franc as its unit and this has been stabilized. The kingdom has Italian support and, under its new king, Zogu, is in fairly good shape financially. The other states have had a more trying time. Much improvement now is reported, however, much to the gratification of bankers and foreign traders in all parts of the world because it is a tenet of international trade and finance that any weak spot on the map in some way has a depressing effect on the whole situation.

A fact of peculiar interest is that one of the outstanding services which the League of Nations has performed has been in connection with currency stabilizations. Its work in putting Austria on a gold currency basis through a species of receivership stands as an epochal achievement in international finance and the aid given the Balkan States is of similar calibre.

In Greece, the League completely made over the whole national monetary system. The National Bank of Greece which formerly had been the government bank with the right of note issue was deprived of that franchise and an entirely new institution set up, the Bank of Greece. The old National bank of Greece has become merely a commercial bank with no governmental functions while the Bank of Greece has a monopoly of note issues. The League of Nations maintains a general supervision through a foreign adviser who, in effect, runs the bank. Through the good offices of the League a loan was obtained just a year ago and with the proceeds a reserve of 40 per cent was established. The League sees to it that this reserve is strictly maintained to prevent depreciation of the currency based upon it. The new drachma is the unit. It is stabilized on a basis of approximately 55 drachmas to the dollar or about one-fifth of the value of the pre-war Greek drachma.

A very interesting fact which relates to the Bank of Greece as well as to the other Balkan institutions is that the gold reserve need not be held in the country. So long as the bank holds evidences of ownership of gold, the actual metal can be anywhere in the world. It may merely hold paper attesting its right to gold exchange or may actually own ear-marked bullion, the bullion itself lying in vaults in London, Paris, New York, Tokyo, or anywhere.

It is regarded generally as an indication of greater international confidence that banks are able to issue currency notes which circulate at par even though the gold on which they are based actually reposes in a foreign and distant country.

The League acted only indirectly in the Romanian stabilization, French financiers being the chief mentors. A stabilization loan has just been floated, $10,000,000 being subscribed in the United States. European countries took large amounts and a total of nearly $100,000,000 was realized, $25,000,000 of which was used entirely for currency stabilization. Reconditioning state railways and other public works called for the remainder. The loan has been stabilized at approximately 163 to the dollar. The National bank has a monopoly of note issue and must keep a 35 per cent reserve in gold or gold exchange. The government may hold only 10 per cent of the bank's capital stock and must keep hands off politically.

Q. What is the inside of a loaf of bread called—the part that is not the crust? K. S.

A. The soft, inner part of the loaf, as distinguished from the crust, is called the crumb.

Q. Please explain the difficulty that arose concerning the social status of the vice president's sister, S. D.

A. Vice President Curtis informed Secretary Kellogg that he had appointed his sister, Mrs. Gann, to act as his official hostess. The vice president asked at the same time that steps be taken to have Mrs. Gann accorded full recognition as his official hostess. Mr. Kellogg notified the vice president that he would inform the diplomatic corps of this designation and that Mrs. Gann should be given recognition as his official hostess. He stated at the same time that although Mrs. Gann would act as the vice president's hostess, this fact could not affect the question of her seating at table, as in accordance with long established international custom, she could not be seated before the wives of ambassadors or ministers. The secretary informed the dean of the diplomatic corps accordingly. The vice president protested. The diplomats decided to await a ruling of the new Secretary of State Stimson. Secretary Stimson replied that the social status accorded by the diplomatic representatives should be decided by them, whereupon the diplomats decided that the hostess of the vice president should be accorded the same courtesies that would be given to the wife of a vice president.

Q. How many miles can a horse travel in an hour? E. L. K.

A. Horse racing records are made for distance rather than for a period of time. A horse has been known to travel approximately 21 or 22 miles an hour. A horse has made as high as one mile in 1 minute 25 1/2 seconds.

Q. What is the difference between probation and parole? C. J. S.

A. Quoting Judge Kavanagh: "Probation lets one who has been adjudged guilty of crime go from the court room without any punishment at all. Parole means forgiving the rest of the punishment after a guilty person has suffered a part."

East Liverpool Review Offers to Its Readers a New Map of Europe

Europe is about 100,000 square miles smaller than it was 11 years ago. One great city of more than 100,000 people, Peru, has been moved out of Europe, into Asia.

The boundary between these continents has been radically altered by the Soviet government, great slices of land now being considered in Asia although west of the Ural Mountains, which formed the old boundary line.

These changes are shown for the first time on any map in the New Map of Europe secured by our Washington Information Bureau.

Words of the Wise

Ritzy Rosalie

Rosalie has decided that she just must add a new bag to her Spring accessory wardrobe. It's so much fun to peek inside every bag in sight, whether a purchase is made or not. Of course, Jin is interested in a bag big enough for Rosalie to tuck in an extra dog biscuit or two. The new "school satchel" type could carry a good many biscuits and it's such a nice bright color too. But Rosalie's preference is for the envelope bag which opens triangularly with a gate lock at the end of the frame. Copyright, 1929, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK Day By Day

By O. O. McIntyre.

NEW YORK, April 18.—No actress or actor in affluent years expects to become an inmate of a home for aged and indigent players. But they are confident of their improvidence and prepare for the rainy days. Few are without a life membership in some peaceful haven.

The two best known perhaps are the Actors' Fund Home on Staten Island and the Percy Williams Home at Ithaca. There are about 30 guests in each, and while not embarrassed with actual cash, many in declining days have more comforts than they ever had in prosperity.

Theatrical folk do not forget their guild. There are always visitors with presents, those willing to entertain and other varied efforts to keep life from the tedium of neglect. In each home, too, there is a sharp class distinction. Achievement is honored with special recognition.

In one former leading lady for Booth is "the first lady." In another an actress who played with Salvini is recognized as the social leader. There is the attitude that exists toward the star in the theater. But most of the guests are those who played in lesser roles.

In agreeable weather they gather on the lawn and one of the diversions, not without its amusing touch, is a polite "panning" of the venerable Mrs. Whiffen. At 80, Mrs. Whiffen continues to appear at intervals on Broadway and thus scorn the institutional beneficence.

One of the guests who departed after a few weeks for greater activity was Frankie Bailey, whose shapely limbs won such renown in days when Lew Fields was choking the daylight out of Joe Weber. She is past 60 but looks no more than 40, and has a treasure that would bring complete independence.

This is a table cloth upon which she has embroidered the most distinguished list of signatures ever collected. Nearly every star of the past 50 years in America and Europe is represented, as are several presidents and others looming big in the pages of history.

YOUR HEALTH

An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth A Pound of Cure.

By Dr. Royal S. Copeland.

My friend, Senator Randall, of Louisiana, has prepared a bill, proposing to establish a "National Institute of Public Health." The senator is disturbed over the long list of diseases which require study in order that a means of cure may be discovered.

There are a lot of these, too many for our peace of mind. In this list is found pernicious anemia.

What is "Pernicious Anemia?" You know what "anemia" is, that condition of the blood in which there is a marked decrease in the colored corpuscles of the blood. We observe a waxy condition of the skin, great weakness, and all the symptoms of lowered vitality.

Pernicious anemia is worse than this, a really serious and long-continued disease. The attacks last for months and repeatedly recur over a period of years. There are marked changes in the blood and many disagreeable symptoms. The red coloring material of the blood, essential to health and physical safety, is greatly reduced.

In this disease there is not only an unwillingness to do anything, but this weakness progresses steadily. There are occasional periods of improvement, as I have said, but it is not long before another attack appears.

There are some diseases, the effects of which are due to a failure of some organ of the body to supply a substance essential to our welfare. One such disease is diabetes, in which the secretion of the pancreas—the "sweetbread"—is reduced.

This particular secretion is known as "insulin." Without it the tissues are unable to take sugar from the blood. Then trouble results.

In pernicious anemia we are not so fortunate as is the case in diabetes. In the latter disease, with the cause known, it has been found possible to give insulin and thus overcome the failure of the pancreas to make it.

In progressive anemia the missing factor has not been located and, as yet, no way is known of supplying it, as insulin is supplied. But some patient research worker will find it.

In the treatment of pernicious anemia the authorities are pretty well in agreement. They all advise that rest in bed is of great importance. The poor victim is kept in his room for weeks at a time.

Various forms of medication are advised. The family doctor must determine what to do in a particular case.

Perhaps the thing of chief value is the proper feeding of the patient. Much depends on giving an abundance of good food.

Many special diets have been recommended in pernicious anemia. Things that are easy of digestion and capable of improving the general nourishment of the body, have been agreed upon as valuable. We, too, can agree to this, because it should be the test to apply to all our eating, in health as well as in disease.

A full quota of protein food, supplied by milk and the vegetables, is important. The importance of the protein foods is the reason why muscle, meat and liver have been so highly recommended.

In pernicious anemia the blood building processes of the body are seriously reduced. To overcome this defect we must give blood building foods. One of the best of these is liver, perhaps calf's liver because it is less fat.

The liver may be eaten broiled, baked, minced, or made into soup. It should be prepared without fat because fat food element is harmful in the disease we are considering.

Green vegetables, fruits, sweet potatoes, as well as the other foods I have mentioned, are useful in pernicious anemia. These are a few suggestions which may be helpful in its control.

Other Editors Say

No Tax Reduction Now.

President Hoover calls a halt to the tax reduction talk that has been going the rounds since March collections made an unexpected large jump. He points out that a number of big money projects are now under way, and that tax reduction should not be considered until more is known of their cost.

Of these projects farm relief, cruiser construction, Boulder Dam and flood control are the most important. The government is committed to all and must appropriate freely for all four.

The farm relief program alone will require a revolving fund of at least a quarter of a billion. And there will doubtless be set up at the same time a farm board and machinery of price control that will be permanent charges against the treasury.

Cruiser construction is expensive. And flood control of the kind the country expected congress to undertake when the acute situation arose two years ago would easily wipe out any surplus now in sight and more.

That more was not done in connection with all these projects in the last two years may very well be due to the desire of the Coolidge administration to make good financial showing at all costs. A time has now come when money must be spent for these purposes, or our national policy regarding them frankly altered.

The president does well to face the facts. It is useless to talk tax reduction when increased expenditures running into the hundreds of millions confront us. And although the president says nothing about it, it is by no means certain that tax collections will remain at their high March level, or that the surplus to which they now point will not prove transitory.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Congress and Floods.

Congress in next regular session will be subject to increased pressure for appropriations for flood control.

The country—a good part of it—has been suffering a recurrence of floods, more of it than the Mississippi and Sacramento river terraces is involved. During the past few months loss of life and property has been impressive in various sections of the country. These localities will be heard from. Florida, for example, may be expected to take forceful action. Florida certainly needs assistance, and General J. M. Davis is with her to a certain extent. President Hoover also is expected to look with kindly eyes upon the claims in this connection of a state which followed his banner in the recent election.

Other localities are expected to put in their claims with reference to flood control. Local populations have special interests which congress must recognize.

Flood control has become a matter for national concern. Existing acts must be broadened and new legislation perfected to meet this issue.

The people of the nation are long in awakening to knowledge of the facts that destruction and destitution in any section of the country must affect the country as a whole. In this realization the government will be called upon to do what it may to correct and control an annual menace of life and property in many sections of the country.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Once Overs

The Time For Thrift Is Here.

You are not long on self-denial, therefore you go merrily on, spending to the limit of your earnings.

You think there is altogether too much said about economy.

These budgets and cuts and savings are tiresome.

You have little use for certain friends of yours who refuse to go in for certain things you do, that cost a lot of money.

They bank so closely that they have little to spend.

You don't bank at all, so you have the limit of your wages or salary to spend.

Or if you do deposit your money, you check out as fast as you get it.

You never consider any other sort of an account but a checking account.

You don't want to feel that you cannot get hold of your money as soon as you want it.

That is why you object to insurance and endowments and all the rest of the thousand and one ways to work up a competence for old age.

It isn't so much that you are afraid of the companies turning out badly and losing your money, but you could not stand it to know that you had money and not at immediate call.

When will you grow up?

PHYLLIS HAVER AT AMERICAN

Phyllis Haver, who plays one of the principal roles in D. W. Griffith's "The Battle of the Sexes," now at the American theater, owes her movie stardom to a leave of absence given her at the Sennett Studios. Today Miss Haver is considered one of the screen's foremost actresses.

Miss Haver had been on the Mack Sennett lot disporting over the Californian sands in bathing suits of varying designs when she was offered a little part in a Goldwyn picture. She asked for a vacation from the Comedy Studio, which was accordingly granted her. The "little part" was that of "Folly Love" in "The Christian," a highly emotional role. In her capable hands, the "little part" became one of the big features of the picture. Immediately there followed offers from various companies and Phyllis' vacation was extended indefinitely.

Today Miss Haver ranks with the dozen or so leading actresses of the screen.

Marceline Day, one of the best-known free lance actresses in Hollywood, has a part in support of Clara Bow in the Paramount release of flaming youth in its maddest moments, "The Wild Party," now at the Ceramic theater.

Miss Day's part is one of the most important supporting roles in the entire cast and she carries off the portrayal of the president of the student body with rare charm.

Fredric March, known to stage audiences for his excellent work as Tony in the famous play, "The Royal Family," has the leading male role in "The Wild Party," which is a pulsating portrayal of modern college life.

ALLURING DANCES IN STATE HIT

Several new and alluring dance steps were created for the chorus scene in "The Broadway Melody," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's all-talking, all-singing, all-dancing production, which is at the State theater. The dancers rehearsed the steps several weeks before they were finally filmed under the direction of Harry Beaumont with the assistance of George Cunningham, youthful stage director responsible for the chorus in "Hit the Deck," "No, No, Nanette," "Good News," "Music Box Revue" and other successful shows.

Anita Page, Bessie Love and Charles King are seen in the featured roles, while Mary Moran, Kenneth Thomson, Eddie Kane and others of note are among the players in this spectacular drama of theaterdom. Miss Page and Miss Love are seen as a "sister act" endeavoring to crash Broadway.

Humor and pathos mingle with the brilliant scenes of night life along New York's "Gay White Way," and there is a romance that tugs at the heart.

Why not own the best?

SHE lived the jazz-mad life of Broadway—loved with a jealousy that only love could inspire... killed in a frenzied, hatred passion... then hid in the loneliness of a desert isle, with the man who came to take her back to justice.

WHAT drama, then, when this policeman becomes her husband and later is forced to tell in a packed court room, the horrible facts that brand his own wife a murderess.

ALL the big moments in all the sensational murder trials cannot compare with the stirring realism enacted in this George Fitzmaurice masterpiece.

Doctor Found What is Best for Thin, Constipated People

As a family doctor at Monticello, Illinois, the whole human body, not any small part of it, was Dr. Caldwell's practice. More than half his "calls" were on women, children and babies. They are the ones most often sick. But their illnesses were usually of a minor nature—colds, fevers, headaches, biliousness—and all of them required first a thorough evacuation. They were constipated.

In the course of his 47 years' practice (he was graduated from Rush Medical College back in 1875), he found a good deal of success in such cases with a prescription of his own containing simple laxative herbs with pepsin. In 1892 he decided to use this formula in the manufacture of a medicine to be known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and in that year his prescription was first placed on the market.

The preparation immediately had as great a success in the drug stores as it previously had in his private practice. Now, the third generation is using it. Mothers are giving it to their children who were given it by their mothers. Every second of the working day someone somewhere is going into a drug store to buy it. Millions of bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are being used a year.

Its great success is based on merit,

J. B. Caldwell, M.D.
AT AGE 63

on repeated buying, one one satisfied user telling another. There are thousands of homes in this country that are never without a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and we have gotten many hundreds of letters from grateful people telling us that it helped them when everything else failed. Every drug store sells Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.—Adv.

GOITRE

A new treatment for goitre has been developed by the W. T. B. Laboratories 1234 Sanborn Bldg., Battle Creek, Michigan, which many believe will prove to be the long-sought specific for this unsightly and dangerous disease. Many of the largest and most hideous goitres begin to recede almost in a day. They gradually get smaller, and in many cases are entirely gone in a few days. It is equally efficient in cases of toxic and so-called inside goitre. The treatment is harmless and anyone can use it with perfect safety at home.

A 48-page illustrated booklet on the Causes, Dangers and Non-Surgical Treatment of Goitre, issued by the Laboratories, fully explains the new treatment and will be mailed free to any interested sufferer.—Adv.

Griggs, district manager of Val Blatz Brewing company, Milwaukee, who had today appeared before Magistrate Stuart and furnished bond for future appearance on a charge of violation of the prohibition laws.

The product seized was said to contain two-percent alcohol, but Griggs asserted it to be "malt vinyne," produced under federal permit number H15-575. The malt was being held in a warehouse, pending application for its sale under West Virginia's bone-dry law, Griggs said, stating further that none of it had been distributed.

Mere possession of beverage containing more than 1/2 of one percent is a liquor-law violation, state officials said. They indicated a complete investigation will be made before the charge is pushed.

FARM AID BILL BEFORE SENATE

WASHINGTON, April 18.—(INS.)—A farm relief bill, for exceeding the recommendations of President Hoover and including the so-called export bounty plan, was introduced in the senate this afternoon by Senator McNary (R.) of Oregon at the instance of members of the senate agriculture committee.

MAINE RIVERS RISING RAPIDLY

PORTLAND, Me., April 18.—Rivers of northern and western Maine were rising rapidly today with threats of floods, according to reports to the weather bureau.

Fed by eighteen inches of snow from last week's "blizzard" and by rain from the storm of the last two days, the rivers had reached spring freshet height at the head waters.

The next 24 hours will tell the story, weather bureau officials said.

Roads in many districts were reported washed out.

D. A. R. BALLOTING SLATED TODAY

WASHINGTON, April 18.—After a day and night of hectic electioneering, Daughters of the American Revolution met here today for the most important function of the 35th annual congress, the election of officers.

Two complete tickets, one headed by Mrs. Lowell Fletcher, Hobart of Cincinnati, and the other by Mrs. Julius Young Talmadge of Athens, Ga., were nominated.

summoned. With Mayor W. L. Fogo's permission, the pumper and 11 men from the neighboring city started for Calcutta but were stopped at the Central fire station, in St. Clair avenue, after word was received that the blaze was under control.

One side of the Chamberlain house, south of the dwelling occupied by Clark, was scorched by the fire. Roof and windows in the Foulks garage were also damaged. Nine automobiles, stored in the garage, were driven to the street when it was feared that the garage would be destroyed.

Owner Finds Home in Ruins.

Foulks returned from Pittsburgh about 12:30 a. m. today to find his home in ruins. He said that a gas stove was left burning in the house when he left at 6:30 o'clock, that the fire appeared to have started in the opposite end of the structure. He estimated his loss at $5,000.

Some furniture was carried from the house occupied by Clark. The property, valued at $2,000, was partially insured.

The damage to the Lawrence Chamberlain home was estimated at $400, while the repairs to the Foulks garage will cost about $100.

Fire Hits Castine, O.

GREENVILLE, O., April 18.—Fire, believed to have been caused by an overheated stove, and fanned by a brisk wind, razed two dwellings at Castine, near here, early today, and for a time threatened to wipe out a section of the Larke county village.

Loss was estimated at $10,000. The flames destroyed the home of Raymond Powell, and he and his family were forced to flee to the street in night clothes.

An unoccupied house, owned by Albert McFadden also was burned to the ground.

Are You Ready

When your Children Cry for It

Baby has little upsets at times. All your care cannot prevent them. But you can be prepared. Then you can do what an experienced nurse would do—what most physicians would tell you to do—give a few drops of plain Castoria. No sooner done than Baby is soothed; relief is just a matter of moments. Yet you have eased your child without use of a single doubtful drug; Castoria is vegetable. So it's safe to use as often as an infant has any little pain you cannot put away. And it's always ready for the crueller pangs of colic, or constipation, or diarrhea; effective, too, for older children. Twenty-five million bottles were bought last year.

CHURCH CHOIR MUSICALE HERE

The Sunday school orchestra and junior choir will present a musicale at 8 o'clock tonight in the auditorium of the Methodist Protestant church, under the auspices of the Young Women's Home Missionary society. The program follows:

"The Lord's Prayer"—Choir.
"Festival Overture" (Otis Taylor)—Orchestra.

BETWEEN YOU AND ME

BY JOAN

It is the Law of Influence that we become like those whom we habitually admire.

The clown who laughed when his heart was breaking and the chorus girl who hooped blithely with aching corns had easy lots compared with Mickey Bennett who plays the title role in "The Dummy." Paramount's new all-talking melodrama, Ruth Chatterton, the delightful stage and screen star, carries the feminine role. "It's a sparkling, laughable comedy and drama, replete with clean humor and tense action."

Following is the Pledge of Purity written above the signature of E. E. Rick "I pledge that Rick's Ice Cream does not contain gelatin, neither does it contain gums, fillers, adulterants or artificial flavorings of any kind, only real cream, granulated sugar and pure flavorings are used in Rick's Ice Cream." I read the above pledge in Carnahan's Drug Store the other evening (they have Rick's cream, you know) and said I to myself, "No wonder many folks say it is their favorite Ice Cream."

There's no mistaking the superior origin of the fine new Topcoats for men that one finds at the Frank Diamond Haberdashery. It is evident, for example, in such noticed details as the smartly snug fit of their collars and the perfection of their shirring lines when they are in the rayon or acetate type. Then again you'll notice the style-right colorings for spring and last but not least... that splendid quality of material in every topcoat.

I thought as I stepped into LEMMER'S yesterday that by some happy fate I had wandered into a garden of beautiful summer flowers... fresh with the morning's dew. You see they had just finished adorning the silent mannequins with newly arrived gowns... creations of breath-taking loveliness, they were. There were all the colors one sees in a flower garden too. Wish I could pen-sketch them for you but better far... you can see these utterly original dresses in the display window. Especially do I invite your attention to the Orchid Circle Clifton with its skirt so charmingly flounced in many tiers of Point D'esprit net. This is one of the many unusual gowns for evening wear... I discovered at Lemmer's.

Foot wear must harmonize with the other articles of fashionable apparel offered by modistes and milliners. You'll experience no difficulty in finding the correct shoe to synchronize with your day or evening ensemble... if only you will take my advice and visit Bendheim's. Just imagine a dainty pump in variegated colorings of chartreuse, canary and several shades of blue... beautiful Rhapsody models in colorful crepes and linens. Every shoe a masterpiece of loveliness to make a pretty foot more charming still and listen! I didn't find a pair marked over $7.50.

Unless you've come into possession of a legacy or have been assured of an income that will take care of you during your entire life... Miss Ann Watson has a message that will be of paramount importance to you. She will inform you on the subject of Annuities (several forms of them) and is prepared to answer such serious questions as these: How can a woman utilize insurance for investment and protection?... How can I provide for a dependent father and mother? How can I finance a mortgage through Life Insurance? and How can I gain financial independence for my old age. These are all questions that concern most of us.

Parade? What parade? No, that's not a parade. That's just the way the cars line up in front of Grease Palace. Those two cars at the head of the line are waiting for gasoline, but the rest of the cars are waiting to be washed. See! that car over there is having the thin... diluted oil drained out of its crankcase... then it will be filled with clean Mid-continent Motor-oil. And did you ever receive more cheerful service than you are accorded at the Milliron Filling Station? I never have.

If you've never used Allen's butter, made fresh at the City Market House every day, I'll venture it's because you've never been told how good and pure it really is. Do you realize that every pint of milk is tested... then pasteurized before being churned? The butter I purchased there yesterday had just been churned. It certainly had a delightful flavor. If you prefer the sweet (unsalted), it is made fresh every day also.

The best place in town to go for your Sunday dinner? Well it's one of the unwritten laws of this column never to use the word "best" carelessly. Because "best" is a pretty sweeping statement and what one person would consider best, another might rate as only a runner-up. I'm safe in saying that if you go to the Traveler's Hotel for dinner you'll come away well pleased. If you've never eaten there... make it a point to do so soon. Dinners are four-course meals... and their price is very reasonable.

Just like me! To forget one of the important things I intended to mention. The lovely white Commencement dresses I saw at Lemmer's. One in particular caught my fancy. Picoated ruffles formed the skirt and it's little Eton jacket just seemed to be one continuous graceful ruffle. Another... Oh, bother—here it is again—lack of space prevents my telling you more... but perhaps you'd rather see them anyway.—Adv.

STOMACH UPSET

Get at the real cause. That's what thousands of stomach sufferers are doing now. Instead of taking tonics, or trying to patch up a poor digestion, they are attacking the real cause of the ailment—clogged liver and disordered bowels. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets arouse the liver in a soothing, healing way. When the liver and bowels are performing their natural functions, away goes indigestion and stomach troubles. Have you a bad taste, coated tongue, poor appetite, a lazy, don't-care feeling, no ambition or energy, trouble with undigested foods? Take Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil. Know them by their olive color. They do the work without griping, cramps or pain. All Druggists. Take one or two at bedtime for quick relief. Eat what you like. 15c, 30c, 60c.

Local Barber Finds Relief From Indigestion and Kidney Misery

Says Owa-Ton-Na Helped Him After Everything Else Failed.

Owa-Ton-Na does not confine its results to cases of mild nature but even in cases of long standing, complicated as they may seem even after many expensive treatments had been tried without fail, yield to this simple harmless remedy. It is not claimed that Owa-Ton-Na performs miracles nor that it is a cure-all. It simply acts as an aid in the elimination of harmful poisons, toning the stomach, liver, kidneys and intestinal tract, thereby giving nature an opportunity to recoup the normal action of these important organs.

Even though Owa-Ton-Na has been introduced in East Liverpool but a short time, hundreds of enthusiastic people tell of its benefits. Among them is Mr. R. C. Anderson, who resides at 1706 Oakland avenue, this city. Mr. Anderson who is a barber at the Traveler's Hotel, says, "For 9 years I have been suffering with indigestion and kidney trouble. Sometimes quite severely."

"I have used medicine after medicine and nothing seemed to do me good. I had no appetite and when I would eat, food didn't seem to agree with me. I would have terrible attacks of gas and sourness. I was always constipated and just seemed to be getting worse all the time. My kidneys were in terrible condition. The backaches I could have made it hard for me to sleep at my work. Sometimes it seemed that I couldn't straighten out. Several times each night I was forced to get up to relieve bladder irritation. This kept me from getting a good night's sleep."

"Headaches and dizzy spells almost drove me crazy. I have tried many expensive treatments to relieve this condition but without results. I had come to the point where I was disgusted with medicines but the Owa-Ton-Na man insisted that I at least give this Indian Herb Remedy a trial and I want to say right now that one bottle of Owa-Ton-Na has done me more good than all the medicines I have taken in a long time."

"It just seems to cleanse the system from top to bottom. Almost from the first dose that sour, acid condition in my stomach was relieved and my appetite started to pick up. Food didn't bother me. My bowels started to act regularly. My kidneys are now acting much better than they have for a long time and I am not troubled with backaches. Believe me I am going to keep right on taking Owa-Ton-Na until this condition is cleared up. From the improvement I have shown with a few bottles, it will not be long until I am my former self."

Anyone who is suffering should give this fine Indian Remedy a fair trial and I am sure they will be benefited. What Mr. Anderson says is the opinion of thousands of people all over this broad land. You, too, may find in Owa-Ton-Na the medicine you have been looking for. Why not give it a trial yourself today? There is a special laboratory representative now at Carnahan's Drug Store, 114 E. Sixth street, who will be glad to explain the merits of this fine remedy to you. Why not call today and have a talk with her about your case? Owa-Ton-Na is also obtainable at Carnahan's East End Store and Newell, W. Va. Store.

Your City Servant

Mirrors of Wellsville Municipal Family

Mayor W. L. Fogo

When, on Dec. 31, 1929, Wallace L. Fogo, present mayor, closes his books on the year's municipal business affairs, he will have completed his fifth terms as Wellsville's chief executive, thereby qualifying as one of the city's most consistent officers, in point of service.

Fogo was first elected mayor in 1902. He served three terms. Then for a period of 24 years he "sat on the political sidelines," until 1925, when he ran for office again, was nominated and re-elected. He served out that two year term and again was placed in office by Wellsville electors.

Fogo has been a lifelong resident of Wellsville. While not "mayoring" he has been engaged in various other lines of business. For 10 years prior to his first election in 1902 he was in the employ of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Prior to his election in 1925 he was with the McLean Fire Brick company and since assuming the duties of chief executive, he launched an insurance and real estate business which he is still operating.

He is a Republican, and, he says, pledged to "progressiveness." He is actively interested in the present time in the construction of a new Seventeenth street storm sewer and a filtration plant.

Fogo has been on an enforced vacation since the first of the year when his right leg was broken while he was aiding local firemen at an East Liverpool fire. He expects to resume his duties next month.

Mayor and Mrs. Fogo live in Broadway. They have two sons and a daughter. Edward is a deputy state commissioner of motor vehicles, with his office in Columbus. Paul is engaged in the real estate and insurance business. Mrs. James Strabley, the only daughter, lives in New Philadelphia.

HIGH DEBATERS LOSE IN WEIRTON

Wellsville high school debaters, divided into two teams, one an affirmative and one a negative, to debate the theory that "Trial By Jury Should Be Abolished," lost both of their contests yesterday in the triangular meet with Weirton and Toronto high schools.

The local affirmative clashed with the Toronto negatives here yesterday morning and lost by a two to one vote of the three judges. The Weirton affirmatives won unanimously from the Wellsville negatives, at the same time, in Weirton.

As a result of their two defeats the locals were automatically eliminated.

PEOPLE AS HAPPY AS BIRDS IN SPRINGTIME

No Reason Why Anyone Should Suffer From Spring Fever, Says the World's Tonic Man

"When the warmth of Spring is felt, everything in Nature changes. All vegetation pulses with activity. Animals become brighter, and are more active. Why, then, is it that man alone suffers from so-called 'Spring Fever'?"

That question was put to the World's Tonic man a few days ago. Instantly he answered: "If men lived like the animals they wouldn't have spring fever. But since they eat heavy food all winter, and keep in the houses, their organs fail to throw off all the waste matter and impurities. Then when Spring is at hand, they feel like they couldn't move, and want to lie down and sleep. No wonder. Systems are full of waste, the blood carries a lot of impurities, and often shows its condition in catarrh. What man needs then is something that will clean his blood, correct the catarrhal troubles, and give vigor and pep. Why, thousands of people take two or three bottles of World's Tonic every Spring in order to help purify the blood, overcome the catarrhal effects, and build up the strength and to help regulate the bowels and the system. You can come pretty near telling such a man by his clear eye, springy step and vim. If all who have Spring fever would do that, this nation would be as happy as the birds in Spring."

World's Tonic is sold by Carnahan's also C. M. Brannan's at Wellsville and all other good druggists. (A-169)—Adv.

Grateful Lady Pays Tribute to Master Medicine—Ended Severe Complication.

MRS. MARY S. WHITACRE.

"Konjola is the first medicine that benefited me and I fully realize that it is indeed, the master medicine of them all," said Mrs. Mary S. Whitacre, Box 84, Newtown, near Cincinnati.

"My stomach was disordered! I failed to relish any food, and lost all energy and strength. My liver became torpid and sluggish, bringing on dizzy spells. Then rheumatism developed in my joints and muscles.

"Steadily I became worse and only when something had to be done, did I decide to try Konjola. Konjola went right to work. My stomach was cleaned and strengthened. My appetite and digestion were restored. Soon my liver resumed its normal function and then the rheumatic pains were eliminated. I wish to say that I feel like an entirely different person. Do you wonder that I praise Konjola?"

Konjola is sold in E. Liverpool at Carnahan drug store and by all the best druggists in all towns throughout this entire section.—Adv.

25 YEARS OF PERFECTION

AN ALL-STEEL REFRIGERATOR THE FIRST! ...THE ONLY ONE!

THIS General Electric is the only refrigerator built entirely of steel! Think what that means! It is sturdy and durable beyond anything that you ever believed a refrigerator could be.

This small-family model freezes a generous supply of ice... and in a shorter time. One tray freezes in two hours, both trays in four. It uses less current because the cabinet is so efficient that cold does not leak out and heat does not creep in. And, of course, it has the exclusive advantage of simplified mechanism, enclosed in an hermetically sealed steel casing and mounted on top. This leaves the greatest area available for food storage and makes possible the up-on-legs model which is so easy to clean under.

In operation it is extremely quiet. It never needs oiling. It is as portable as a piece of furniture. You just plug it into any convenient outlet. See all its unique features yourself. Come in today. And ask about the convenient plan on which it can be bought.

Listen in on the General Electric Hour, broadcast every Saturday evening, 9 to 10 Eastern Standard Time, over the N. B. C. network of forty-two stations.

Tribe Pilots Rapped As Cast-Off Uhle Wins 15-3 Skirmish

Averill Connects Again; Hack Wilson On Rampage

St. Louis Browns Win Second Straight as Crowder James Sox; Macks Murder Nats; Yanks-Red Sox Rained Out Again.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The second guessers are riding Roger Peckinpaugh and Billy Evans out in Cleveland today because of the comeback of George Uhle, Cleveland pitching ace who was traded to Detroit because his salary whip went lame last year. Uhle pitched the Tigers to a 15 to 3 win over the Indians yesterday, leaving Roger and Billy holding a large bag.

To make matters worse, Tavenner and Holloway, who came to Cleveland in the deal, were complete flops. Holloway, who had asked to pitch against Uhle to show that the Indians did not get stung in the trade, was knocked out in the second inning. Tavenner went hitless and made two errors to boot.

The Cleveland fans found some consolation in the fact that Earl Averill, expensive outfielder from the coast, walloped his second homer in as many days. Veterans who also weighed in with circuit clouts were Hornsby, Grimm and Stephenson of the Cubs, Sox of the Athletics, bottom of the Cardinals and Clancy of the White Sox.

Hornsby's homer with the bases loaded and Hack Wilson's four hits featured as the Cubs slaughtered four Pittsburgh pitchers in a 13-to-2 landslide, obtaining revenge for their inaugural day defeat. Cincinnati also squared accounts with the Cardinals, Donohue winning an 8-to-3 decision over Sherdel.

The St. Louis Browns, thanks to their two pitching aces, are the first team to win two games. Sam Gray won on Tuesday and General Crowder tamed the White Sox yesterday, 5 to 3.

Rajah's Homer Cleans Sacks; Wilson Gets Four Bingles.

CHICAGO, April 18.—The Cubs entered the win column of the National league pennant race here yesterday by clubbing the Pirates into submission, 13 to 2.

Four Pirate hurlers were nipped for 15 blows, including homers by Hornsby, Grimm and Stephenson.

Pat Malone, the Altoona Irishman, smoked them down for the Cubs. Had it not been for his wild heave in the ninth, he would have completely blanked the Pittsburghers.

Hornsby, who didn't get a hit on opening day, got two yesterday. He fanned with the sacks loaded in the seventh and got an awful razing from the bleachers. But he got a break by facing the same kind of a situation in the next frame and this time he delivered with a clout into the right field stands.

Hack Wilson led the attack with two doubles and a pair of singles in two trips up.

That young fellow Alcock who recently tossed a score in the 500 class in the Liberty duckpin tourney now under way, almost wept last night as William Manypenny fastened his eagle optic on old man kingpin and threw off a 659—just like that.

Manypenny shot games of 220, 224 and 215, consecutively. The singles event closed last night as Manypenny and three others bowled and Manypenny's score, as a result, is high.

Four doubles teams went into action also. Remaining squads will bowl tonight and tomorrow night.

DUNDEE, KETCHEL BOUT CARDED

PHILADELPHIA, April 18.—Max Waxman, manager of Joe Dundee, announced that the welterweight champion will go through with his postponed bout with young Johnny Ketchel at Elam, Pa., one week from today.

A demonstration will prove Chrysler performance leadership

Drive a Chrysler—"75" or "65"—and you cannot help but understand why Chrysler successfully maintains its performance leadership.

No other car—regardless of price—offers the remarkable combination of features which make Chrysler's unmatched performance possible.

To try out a Chrysler in traffic is to gain a thrilling new conception of how eager, fleet and smooth fine-car acceleration can be—what infinite safety has been attained in Chrysler's weatherproof internal-expanding four-wheel hydraulic brakes.

To open the throttle wide on the broad highway is to feel the exhilaration of steady, effortless high speed.

To negotiate a steep grade or a winding hill is to relish the satisfaction of quiet, boundless energy and power, ever at your command.

Yet it is only logical that Chrysler should give such performance. If you were to have a motor car engineered-to-your-order, you would unquestionably insist on each and every one of the advancements in design and construction which, together, endow Chrysler with its masterful performance.

We are eager to have you put a Chrysler "75" or "65" to the test—to learn for yourself what a vast difference there actually is in performance, quality and value between Chrysler and all other cars.

Forbidden Door

Story of Adventurous Youth, Mystery, Fortune and a Girl.

By Herman Landon

Farther and farther outward swung the door. Longer and more tortuously the seconds dragged. Bithely, melodiously the clock ticked.

The girl screamed. She clung to John in an ecstasy of dread. Again her hand rose; she pointed shakily. For just a moment the flicker of a face was seen in the opening. It passed like a darting shadow, like some sudden and ephemeral apparition.

After a while John looked down at the girl in his arms. She had fainted. The door was closed again. The clock was still ticking—peacefully, joyously, as if nothing had happened.

Whose Face?

Morning came, but the tempest showed no sign of letting up. John Breck, looking up at Old Blighy's cloud-banded brow from the porch of Valhalla Notch, guessed shrewdly that the region was in for another of those three or four day rains that were not infrequent in this part of the New Hampshire hills. If anything, the gale and the downpour were worse than the night before. Well, John would have to go to town this morning, rain or shine. There was no getting out of it.

For the third time since getting up he went to Miss Lane's room on the second floor. John was worried about the girl. He had certain suspicions regarding Viola Lane, and he doubted strongly whether it was accidental alone that had brought her to the gates of Valhalla Notch, but that had nothing to do with the fact that she appeared very ill. So he tiptoed to her bed and looked down at her with anxiety. She was in a strange state, neither awake nor asleep. Now she mumbled something and John had to bend low to catch the words: "That awful face! Oh—!" A few incoherent mummings. "Oh—that was almost a collision! The letter . . . " An interval of silence. "Close the door! I don't want to see that face!"

John nodded gravely. She had seen the face, too. She was still seeing it in her ravings; it was still haunting her. It could not have been an imagination on John's part, then. He almost wished that it had been. Feeling utterly helpless he walked downstairs and entered the library. Then he opened the door leading into the little hall at whose farther end was the iron door. He could hear the clock ticking, although it was so dusky in there he could hardly see the dial. With a shudder he recalled the face. He had caught only the faintest glimpse of that face. He doubted whether he had even seen it before, or if he should recognize it upon seeing it again. Did it belong to the prowler who had left the mud prints on the floor? Or to the mysterious being for whom he periodically left a basket of provisions outside the door? Or was it—?

But it was useless to speculate, for he had no idea what the face looked like. If anybody should ask him, he would be utterly at a loss to describe it. He could not even say whether it was an old face or a young one. It had passed out of sight so quickly that it had left only a vague and yet very disturbing impression on his mind.

He went to his room and consulted a typewritten document consisting of several pages containing instructions for his conduct in every conceivable emergency. Putting on a pair of steel-rimmed spectacles, he soon found the paragraph he was looking for. It had to do with the iron door. If anything of whatsoever nature happened to it, he was to dispatch a telegram immediately to Mr. Curry of the United Bankers Trust Company. The telegram was to consist of but a single word—"Door."

With a stolid air John put the document away. He had ceased to wonder about the peculiar instructions that governed his duties at Valhalla Notch. He had a good job at two hundred a month, so why worry? Yet he did feel a little worried this morning. After what had happened during the night, he did not feel quite right about going away from Valhalla Notch. It was only eight miles to Dixville, but it was a hard road to travel in the flivver, especially in a downpour. But rules were rules. Besides, Miss Lane had to have a doctor, and there was no telephone in the house.

He put on his raincoat and locked the front door carefully as he stepped out. Then he went to the garage, large enough to contain a number of vehicles, where the flivver stood beside the yellow roadster in which Miss Lane had arrived. He regarded the larger car with a speculative eye. It would make faster time, and it would be safer on a slippery road, but he was not sure of his ability to handle the gearshift mechanism. In the end he climbed into the humbler car and stepped on a starter. It slipped out of the garage, swerved unsteadily on the wet asphalt outside, glided down the curving driveway toward the gate, and then John heard something that made him instantly bear down on the brake.

A motor's horn blared shrilly. He stared in surprise through the wet windshield. Once more the raucous summons came. John looked dazedly out toward the tall iron gate. Surprises had been coming a little too fast for him lately. Out there in the swirling rain were two large cars. He climbed deliberately from the seat and approached the gate, his mind phrasing a terse speech to the effect that visitors were not desired at Valhalla Notch.

That speech was never uttered, however. John, looking out between the stout iron bars, saw a short man seated beside the driver of the first car. Instantly he recognized Mr. Curry.

He swung the gates open, then stood aside to watch the two cars drive up to the house. There was nothing strange about Mr. Curry's visit, for he was in the habit of coming to Valhalla Notch two or three times a year to look things over, but what were all these other people doing here?

John, following slowly on foot, saw at least twelve of them step out of the two cars and scurry inside the house. When he came up to the porch, Mr. Curry was standing there alone, a wooden cigar clamped between his teeth.

"Hello, John. Surprised you, didn't we? I've brought quite a party with me, but don't worry about the house-keeping arrangements. Mrs. Martener took some of her servants along. We shall probably remain here two or three days. Everything all right?"

"Not—not quite, sir," John fidgeted uneasily. "I was just starting out for Dixville to get a doctor."

"What's the matter, John?" Mr. Curry wiped the rain from his spectacles. "Aren't you feeling well?"

"There's nothing wrong with me, sir, but—" John told about the visitor who had arrived in the night, but kept his suspicions to himself. After all, he had no actual facts with which to dispute Miss Lane's statement that she had got lost.

"Hm," said Curry, replacing the spectacle. "Very curious. The young lady was taken ill, you say?"

"She got a bad shock. I'll tell you about it later. I think I had better go for the doctor now. By the way, sir, the doctor wasn't all I was going for. I meant to send you a telegram at the same time."

"A telegram, John?"

"A telegram of just one little word, sir," John looked about him, saw that the porch was deserted, and whispered close to Mr. Curry's ear: "Door."

Mr. Curry started. He stared for a long moment at the caretaker. Then he said in a peculiarly restrained voice: "All right, John. Better run for the doctor. We can talk later."

John went back to the flivver. For a few moments longer Mr. Curry remained standing on the porch, looked narrowly down at his wooden cigar.

"It never rains but it pours," he mumbled to himself. "Hannan disappears. A mysterious lady visitor comes up to Valhalla Notch. The door—"

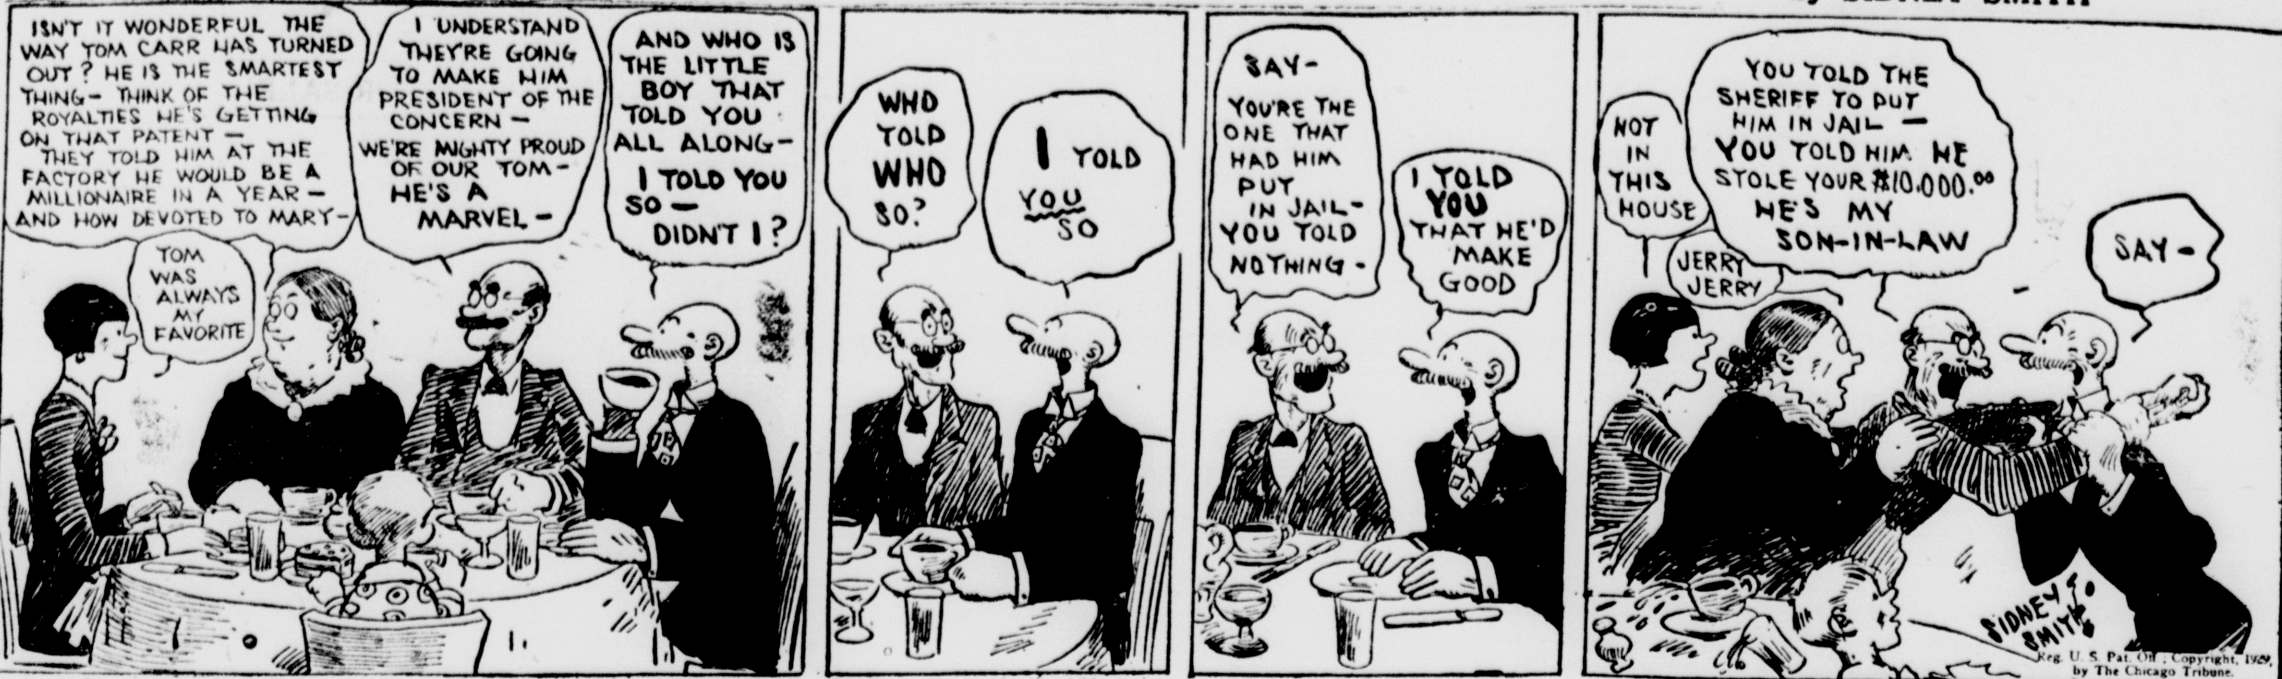

He stuck the wooden cigar back in his mouth and entered the house. He instructed Mrs. Martener's chauffeur to put the two cars in the garage. Another servant was ordered to build fires in the guest rooms, for there was no central heating system at Valhalla Notch.

Mr. Curry went to the room he usually occupied on his visits to Valhalla Notch and changed into dry clothing. At length, avoiding the other visitors, he went to the library, scowling a little as he found another man there before him.

"Hello," he said shortly. "Don't you want to go your room and change?"

I was determined to have a clear skin

A clear skin comes from within. Skin troubles foretell a body weak with lack of red blood. If you desire a clear skin and the blessing of good health, you must keep your blood in good condition.

Everyone has the right to be proud of a clear skin

A CLEAR, smooth, lovely skin bespeaks rich, red blood. It is Nature's outward reflection of the condition within you.

Men and women, both justly covet admiration. Everyone can expect such satisfaction to its fullest extent if they are the possessors of a clear, unblemished skin.

If you are unfortunate in having skin blemishes, pimples, boils, eczema—you owe it to yourself and friends to remove the cause. Nature will then provide the complexion which is so much desired.

S.S.S. has been a blessing to millions of people who have taken advantage of its wonderful medicinal properties. It gives to Nature what it needs in building you up so that your system throws off the cause. The sure way to reach this state is through the blood.

S.S.S.
The Great Blood Tonic

When your system is filled with rich, red blood, the body's power of resistance to infection and disease is raised. Your appetite improves; firm flesh takes the place of that which was once flabby. You sleep soundly. You feel strong. Your nerves become steady. S.S.S. helps Nature build red blood-cells.

Take S.S.S. daily at mealtime. Seek energy, vitality, and a clear skin, through the great blood tonic which is made from fresh vegetable drugs and has stood the test of over 100 years. All good drug stores sell S.S.S. in two sizes. Ask for the larger size. It is more economical.

What's Best For Indigestion

Nearly all stomach troubles—indigestion, sourness, gas, bloating and pain are caused by "too much acid" in the stomach.

Artificial digestants are not needed and may prove harmful. Neutralize the Stomach Acid, sweeten the stomach and then pain, sourness and gas will stop and your food will digest properly and naturally.

From the nearest drug store get a little Bisurated Magnesia—either powder or tablets. Do not confuse with liquid Citrate Magnesia or Milk Magnesia that are strongly laxative. Insist on Bisurated Magnesia, especially prepared for neutralizing acid stomach and promoting healthy natural digestion. For quick positive relief from Acid Stomach troubles.

SHOW BOAT HERE FOR ONE NIGHT

Bryant's show boat, enroute to Monongahela waters, will anchor in East Liverpool tonight for one performance. The boat will dock at the Broadway wharf.

George M. Cohan's musical hit, "Yankee Doodle Boy," will be presented by a cast of 15. Billy Bryant, one of the owners of the boat, and Cohan, Broadway theatrical figure, are old-time friends, having played the same vaudeville stage more than a score of years ago.

Sam Bryant, father of Billy, built his first show boat in 1909. This boat soon became too small and a large craft was constructed. Then the present boat, with a seating capacity of 700 persons, was constructed.
